

There is so much exciting and well produced disability media available today. The challenge comes in knowing where to find it, what to pick and how to use it.

For our valued customers and friends, we are providing a monthly media recommendation that you can use in your trainings, classrooms and share with your networks.

We appreciate your business and hope you think of us as a trusted source.

Best,

Media of the Month

Independence is Precious

This month's media is in keeping with the important topic of independent living. The National Council on Independent Living has an annual conference coming up very soon from July 28th-31st in Washington, D.C. This year's theme is "Prevail". More information can be found here.

3 Reasons why this is useful:

- 1) Creative: Imaginative way of showing dependence so the audience feels it viscerally.
- 2) Well Structured- The "message" comes as a surprise.
- 3) Well Crafted- Nicely shot and edited, not heavy handed.

We hope you find this Media and Disability information helpful. If you know of media that you think is useful and should be featured in our newsletter, feel free to let us know!
